Instructions

In this group discussion activity, you will share and exchange your own personal experiences or observations related to challenges and ways to overcome them. To be more interactive, we will use a whiteboard to write the keyword and start the discussion by asking "What does this word bring to you?"

Discussion Guidelines:

1. Each participant will take turns sharing their experiences or emotions. It's important to listen actively and share different aspects.
2. Real-life examples will be added.
3. The end of each challenge will be the inspiration for teaching.

Discussion Questions:

- what does this word bring to you
- How would you act in this case
- What did this conversation give you

Conclusion:

Understand that each experience is unique and we need to act effectively, promote inclusivity and create an inclusive learning environment.

Activity 2:

Case study of a student/young people. The participants need to use teaching strategies.

Discussion Questions:

- How would you act in this case

- What did this activity give you

Conclusion:

Understanding that each experience is unique, we need to act effectively to promote inclusivity and create an inclusive learning environment.
